

MEMBER TESTIMONIAL

Albert Krüger Business Consultants

As a manufacturing business consultancy to the tooling and manufacturing industry, Albert Krüger Business Consultants were privy to the challenges of a sector in crisis.

“A lack of co-ordinated communication about tool supply in South Africa, combined with a huge move to import tools from foreign countries had a huge impact on South African businesses.

“I joined TASA Gauteng, because it provided me with a huge knowledge network base in Gauteng. As a leading role player in re-establishing the tool supply lines in South Africa, they are in a key position to help business owners of the manufacturing industry and business consultants such as myself to achieve a competitive edge in the industry. I continue to find TASA Gauteng to be an invaluable source of sound advice and resources which are able to help the industry to make operational and strategic decisions about business. It also creates a platform, source of information as well as a new market for consultants like me.

“TASA Gauteng’s open-minded approach to the problem and the ability to understand the full potential of the factors that drive business in the industry through benchmarking, co-operation through networks, government liaison and connections is what sets them apart.

These are just some of the benefits among many that we have experienced with our membership to TASA Gauteng.”
